

WEATHER FORECASTING RESEARCH PART V

By Alphee Lavoie 4/22/15

C.C. Zain found the signs that the moon and its dispositor are in are both extremely important in predicting the weather. He also found that the signs on the cusp of the IC and of the ascendant and their rulers are also important as well as the house placement of those two planets.

Remember that all this research was done using the quarter of the moon. Each quarter of the moon predicts one week of weather.

DO PLANETARY ASPECTS TO THESE POINTS HELPS PREDICT DRY WEATHER?

Results that show that a criteria happens often indicates that it causes dry weather.

PLANETS IN HOUSES

Saturn in the 10th house chi-square 6.3 probability 98.8% often
Saturn in the 7th house chi-square 2.7 probability 89.8% often
Uranus in the 7th house chi-square 6.2 probability 98.8% often
Jupiter in the 10th house chi-square 3.3 probability 92.8% often
Pluto in the 7th house chi-square 5.4 probability 98% often
Mars in the 10th house chi-square 4.3 probability 96.1% often

THE ASCENDANT THE IC AND THE MOON AND SIGN

IC in Aries chi-square 3.2 probability 92.6% often
IC in Gemini chi-square 6.4 probability 99% often
Moon in Leo chi-square 5.7 probability 96.3 often
Moon in Virgo chi-square 4.7 probability 97% often
Moon in Aquarius chi-square 2.7 probability 90.2% % often

DISPOSITOR OF THE MOON, THE IC, THE ASCENDANT

Dispositor of the moon in Virgo chi-square 8.9 probability 97.7% often
Dispositor of the ascendant in Virgo chi-square 5.3 probability 97.9 often
Dispositor of the ascendant in Libra chi-square 3.0 probability 91.5% often
Dispositor of the IC in Libra chi-square 4.6 probability 96.8% often Dispositor of the IC in Gemini chi-square 9.5 probability 99.8 often

PLANETS ASPECTING THE MAJOR POINTS

Uranus conjunct the ruler of the ascendant chi-square 4.3 probability 96.3 often
Mars conjunct the ruler of the IC chi-square 6.2 probability 98.8 often
Pluto conjunct the ruler of the ascendant chi-square 3.2 probability 92.7 often
Saturn conjunct the ruler of the IC chi-square 2.5 probability 8.9% often
Neptune sextile the ruler of the IC chi-square 2.5 probability 88.3% often
Uranus trine the IC chi-square 4.9 probability 97.3% often
Mars trine the ruler of the ascendant chi-square 5.1 probability 97.7% often

CONCLUSION

Our research shows that if any of the important points like the IC, ascendant, Moon and their dispositors are in the signs Aries, Gemini, Leo, Virgo, Libra and Aquarius, the weather tends to be drier. No rain.

The research also shows that the planets that we found in the first and the fourth house of the quarter moons bring rain. If we found those same planets in the 10th and the seventh house, they tend to bring dry weather.

The research shows that the square and opposition to the important points mentioned above bring wet weather and a conjunction, trine, or sextile to these points bring dry weather.
